

Complete these sentences:

1. The baboon threw things at the officers' mess-hall windows.
2. The officers moved his habitation.
3. He caught and sometimes strangled fowls.
4. However, he showed great fancy for one particular fowl.
5. The bird did not reciprocate the affection of the baboon.
6. So the baboon escalated his displays of affection.
7. Sadly, the bird passed away.
8. The baboon buried his friend near a tree.
9. He entered a period of solemn grief.
10. After two weeks, he could not cope with his feelings and dug up and ate his dead pet.

Associate the following sentences in modern English with those in the story.

Original sentence	New sentence
As, for instance, on one day, when he conceived himself insulted by a certain young officer, and instantly fell to pelting the messroom windows [...]	One day he felt that he was being made a fool of by one of the officers so he started throwing things at the windows.
One fowl, however, he took a sudden and violent fancy for.	He had a sudden crush on one of the birds.
He squeezed it, he stroked it, rubbed it, nursed it, held it aloft and danced it, released it for a moment [...]	He gently rocked the fowl with obvious warmth and pleasure.
[He] playfully hauled it back by the leg when it made for liberty.	He pulled it back when it tried to get away.
To think that at last, when he had secured a creature he could really love, it should die ere he could induce it fittingly to reciprocate his affection.	Fancy it dying before he could get it to show its true feelings for him!
[... He] neglected all his usual amusements [...]	He stopped having his usual fun.

TODO: Figure out which tasks to actually do here lol